

WAS*IS Summer 2007 Workshop: Resume
Barry S. Goldsmith
Tampa Bay Area, FL

Professional Experience

NOAA, National Weather Service, 1986 – present

Positions: 12/1998 – present: Sr. Forecaster, WFO Tampa Bay, FL
 11/1993 – 11/1998: Gen. Forecaster, WFO Baltimore/Washington (DC)
 05/1988 – 11/1993: Verification Specialist, Office of Meteorology, Silver
 Spring, MD
 01/1986 – 05/1988: Student Trainee, Office of Systems Development,
 Silver Spring, MD

Relevant Duties/Management

- Tropical Program Manager, WFO Tampa Bay, 2004 – present
- Contributing Member, NWS Tropical Cyclone Products and Services Improvements Team, 2006 – present
- Member, Southern Region Building Leaders for A Solid Tomorrow (BLAST), Class of 2006
- Team Lead, Post-Tropical Cyclone Storm Report Upgrade Team, 2006 – present
- NWS Southern Region Operation Center Duty Officer, March, 2006
- Watch/Warning/Advisory (WarnGen/WWA) Program Manager, 2000-2006
- Member, StormReady Advisory Board, 2003 – present
- WebPage Manager: Significant Events, Quarterly Newsletter, 2000-2006
- Member, NWS Southern Region Media Workshop Team (2003-2005)
- Storm Data Focal Point (Chief Author), NWS Baltimore/Washington, 1994-1998
- Co-operative Program (Student Trainee) Manager, Office of Meteorology Services Evaluation Branch, 1990-1993

Relevant Duties/Outreach

- Adopt-A-County Program Manager, Levy County (2002-2004), Hernando County (2002-present)
- SKYWARN Assistant Manager, 1998-2003, includes over a dozen training sessions as well as web page development
- Media: More than 1000 radio and newspaper interviews since 1993, including at least 5 Sunday morning public service features on tropical weather, winter weather, and El Nino.
- Media: At least 100 interviews, ranging from cut-ins to hour long public service features, since 1993
- Talks to dozens of community organizations, including American Water Works Association, Tech Data Incorporated, Tampa Electric.
- Talks to dozens of schools on weather, weather information, weather safety, and careers in the atmospheric sciences (1989 – present)

Relevant Duties/Outreach(continued)

- Storm Ready Community Designation, presentation only): Hardee County, 2003; John and Mable Ringling Museum of Art, 2005
- Storm Ready Community Designation, start-to-finish management: Hernando County (2003), Oldsmar, FL (2005)

Educational

- Bachelor of Science, Meteorology, the Pennsylvania State University, 1998.
- Additional credits in Statistics, Statistical Meteorology, and Computer Languages (JCL, UNIX, SAS), 1986 – 1988 and 2000
- HTML 4.0 coding, self-taught, 2000- present
- 6 years of French, 1978 – 1983
- Conversational Spanish, 2007
- Attendance and Presenting at more than a dozen Professional Conferences, including AMS and NOAA-sponsored events.

Miscellaneous (Volunteer work, travel, hobbies, etc)

- Member, American Meteorological Society (AMS), since 1988
- Member, West Central Florida AMS (Tampa), since 2000
- Conducted at least 10 tours of elderly citizens at NWS Tampa Bay (1999 – present)
- Volunteer, supplies and food loading for Hurricane Charley relief, 2004
- Volunteer, “Mitzvah Day” of good works, painting and clearing land for for Habitat for Humanity homes, 1997/98
- Ten time blood donor, American Red Cross and Florida Blood Services, 1989 - present
- Participant, American Cancer Society Relay for Life, 2007
- International Travel, non-work related: London (2005), France (countrywide), 1999
- Hobbies: Social dancer and sometimes competitor, member, International Hustle Dance Association; occasional Disc Jockey for diverse dance events
- Hobbies: Former soccer player, and active fan. Member of Screaming Eagles, Inc., (DC United Major League Soccer fan club), active in community events such as city clean-up, Komen Race for the Cure, etc (1997 – present)

For more details, please see my personal home page at <http://web.tampabay.rr.com/wxdancer/resume/intro.htm>